GEOLOGY IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

Mr. Walcott Beturns From an Interesting Exploring Expedition. Charles D. Walcott, Director of the United States Geological Survey, has just returned from a trip to Newfoundland, where he went to study the geologic succession of the lower rocks which, in this country, extend along the line of the Appalachian range to Alabama and Georgia. In Newfoundland, however, the rocks, which are foundland, however, the rocks, which are foundland, however, the rocks, which are foundland, however, the rocks, which are the island will materially aid in the development of the province. The scenery on Appalachians, lie nearly in the position in the west coast is magnificent. There are which they were originally deposited and the true succession can thus be determined. The exploration was under the auspices of the United States National Museum, of which Mr. Walcott is an honorary curator. Three weeks were spent in ex-plorations about Trinity and Conception Bays, where, in company with J. B. How-ley, Government Geologist of NewYound-land, and S. Ward Loper, Curator of the Wesleyan Museum, of Middletown, Conn., be exwelped the various geologic sections he examined the various geologic sections and mede large collections of characteris-tic fossils from them, all of which fossils were shipped from St. John and have been

RIVER VOLGA IMPROVEMENTS. Engineer Poletneff's Report to the Russian Government. Thomas Smith, Consul at Moscow, informs the State Department that the ministry of rallways and communications is at present contemplating the improvement of navigation on the River Volga and its tributaries. Engineer Poletaeff, who made re-searches on the River Kiatka during 1878 and who is now constructing a dam on the River Petroffsk, expresses the opinion that no matter how much the Volga is dredged it will be impossible to free it from the and which accumulates in its broad shal-lows. The banks will always drift during the spring, when the lee breaks up and the current is strong, and dredging and sifting would only be a useless and never sifting would only be a useless and never ending expense.

Engineer Poletaeff proposes to pass the bars on the right and left side by making canals of ordinary width about six fathoms deep on both sides of the river. Presuming the total length of these bars to be 400 versts, or 206 miles, the cost of these canals will not exceed $10,000,000. Because of the present formation of further bars by the widening of the river bed, it would be indispensable to plant willows on the hanks, which, according to an approximate calculation reckoning the height of the embankments at two fathoms, would not cost more than $5,000,000. The cost of the whole undertaking would not exceed $20,800,000, and Engineer Poletaeff undertakes to necomplish it within ten years.

Railway Companies Prime Movers in the Project-A Proposition to Erect a Superb Depot With a Marble Front-It May Solve a Problem.

lokestack, standing majestically as a ument or relic of cable railways in Washington, is to be torn down to make way for a superb union railway station block bounded by Pennsylvania Avenue on the north, Thirteen-and-a-half Street on the east, Fourteenth Street on the west, and D Street on the south. The Capital Traction Company has been negotiating with the Southern and other railroad corpora tions who want this important terminus. The Capital Traction Company has no further use for the square. This is because there is no further mission in Washing ton for cable railways, which were crush destroyed the Capital Traction powerhouse The proposition to the Capital Tractio Company by the parties interested in the deal is to give them $75,000 for the square, It is proposed to run the Southern Railway tracks up Fourteenth Street to Ohio Avenue; thence between Thirteen-and-a-half Street to the front of Pennsylvania Ave-

A handsome station, patterned after the Broad Street Station in Philadelphia, has been designed for the space setween Pennsylvania Avenue and D Street. The territory proposed to be occupied as a union depot, however, is to include all the ground and squares from Pennsylvania Avenue to Ohio Avenue on the south, whence the cars of the Southern Railway Company will run, bringing them close to the headquarters of the Sonthern Railway Company, now situated at the southwest corner of Thirteenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue.

corner of Thirteenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is the prime mover in this important scheme. The object is to acquire all the property of the squares bounded by Pennsylvania Avenue, Ohlo Avenue, and Thirteen and a-half and Fourteenth Streets for a union depot. Thereinto the Pennsylvania, the Southern, the Chesapeake and Ohlo. depot. Thereinto the Pennsylvania, the Southern, the Chesapeake and Ohio, and the Mt. Vernon electric lines expect to run.

A grand depot will be completed within the next two years, it is said, it is to front on Pennsylvaria. Avenue between Thirteen-and-a-half and Fourteenth Streets. It is also proposed that the f.o.4-age of this great edifice shall be of white Italian marble, worthy of the National Capital. The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company considers. Pennsylvania Railroad Company considered this scheme at their lite meeting in July and appointed a committee to adviss with the other companies interested and report a meeting of the directors to be held in August on the plan for establish-ing this union depot at Washington. A bill will be introduced in Congress on its reassembling which will change the routes of the several steam railroads en-tering this city to conform with this plan. This will give legal effect to the improvements projected, as above outlined.

This scheme will compel the Baltimore and Ohio Company to abandon its present route into the city of Washington, and force its way into the union depot to be established and this phase of the matter will come before the next session of Congress. A strong effort will be made, it is said, to thus settle the railroad problem which has long perplexed the residents of the District. It is understood that the Bal-timore and Ohio Company is willing to ac-cept this proposition of change of route for the sake of a terminus in the centre of the city.

The plan for utilizing the powerhouse square for a union station has been taked about for a year or more, but until recently it is understood no definite steps have been taken by the parties interested. For several years the project of a union station in this vicinity has been under consideration.
